

Empower Portraits (TM)

The Spirit of This Policy

Empower Portrait Sessions are intimate, limited experiences released in monthly drops. When you book, you're claiming one of a small number of spots designed to happen within that month. This policy protects your experience, respects the community waiting for openings, and ensures I can show up fully prepared for every client.

Booking & Payment

Your session is officially reserved once your full session fee is received. This payment holds your exclusive spot and initiates your preparation journey.

Rescheduling & Cancellations

These sessions are designed to flow. Once you book, everything is set in motion. Rescheduling requires manual coordination.

- One reschedule is permitted per booking with a minimum of 72 hours' notice and a 100 USD rescheduling fee, payable before your new date is confirmed. Your rescheduled date must remain within your original booking month.
- If no availability remains within your original booking month due to studio scheduling, I'll work with you to secure a date in the immediately following month at no additional fee. This extension is offered once and at my discretion.
- Reschedule requests made with less than 72 hours' notice will not be accommodated. The full session fee is forfeited.
- No further reschedules: If you cannot attend your rescheduled session, your full session fee is forfeited.

Cancellations

- Within 7 days of purchase: If you have not yet scheduled your session, you may cancel within 7 days of purchase for a full refund. Once your session date is scheduled, however, standard rescheduling and cancellation terms apply.
- After 7 days from purchase: No cancellations accepted. If you cannot attend, you may use your one permitted reschedule (with fee). If you cannot make the rescheduled session, your full fee is forfeited.
- No-show: The full session fee is non-refundable and non-transferable.

How to Reschedule or Cancel

All rescheduling and cancellation requests must be submitted via email. Your request is not confirmed until you receive written acknowledgment from me. DMs and texts are not accepted for scheduling changes.

Why This Policy Exists

Boundaries are an act of empowerment for both of us.

This policy ensures every client gets my full attention, preparation, and energy. It also honors the women on my waitlist who are ready and excited to claim their spot.
